Acknowledgements

Very Special Thanks
Charlotte Coker Gibson
Executive Director, PwC Charitable Foundation, Inc.

Special Thanks
Stacy Magdaluyo
Manager, PwC Charitable Foundation, Inc.

Rachael Brunk
Advisory Experienced Associate, PwC Advisory Services

The HistoryMakers 2016
Digital Archive Competition Awards Luncheon
hosted by the PwC Charitable Foundation, Inc.

K.B. Polk Center For Academically Talented And Gifted
Dallas, Texas

Suzanne Kimbrell-Bauer
Teacher
Paige Hounsel
Student, 5th Grade

Fort Hayes Career Center
Columbus, Ohio

Jalen Spencer
Student, 11th Grade
Julie Kindinger
Teacher

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP
One N Upper Wacker Drive
Chicago, Illinois | Friday, June 3, 2016
Paige Hounsel
K.B. Polk Center For Academically Talented And Gifted; Dallas, Texas

Paige Hounsel, age 11, was born in Dallas, Texas and lives there with her parents Scott and Sue Hounsel and 8 year old brother Levi. Paige has always been an avid reader and among her favorite books is the Harry Potter series. She has participated in various writing competitions throughout elementary school and most recently placed 2nd for a 1960s themed essay in the Dallas Independent School District’s Lone Star competition. Paige also enjoys art and currently spends her free time practicing Manga, the cartoon style from Japan. She is looking forward to middle school next year having been accepted into Irma Lerma Rangel Young Women’s Leadership School.

Suzanne Kimbrell-Bauer
K.B. Polk Center For Academically Talented And Gifted; Dallas, Texas

Suzanne Kimbrell-Bauer is a 5th grade Social Studies instructor at K.B. Polk Center For Academically Talented And Gifted. After spending two years in Paraguay offering community and economic development to families through the Peace Corps, Ms. Kimbrell-Bauer became a case manager and counselor for The Promise House, a Dallas nonprofit organization. She went on to serve as a tutor for the Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID) program, a college readiness system for elementary through higher education that is designed to increase school-wide learning and performance. Kimbrell-Bauer studied political science and government at the University of North Alabama before attending Coastal Carolina University, where she earned her B.S. degree in business administration and marketing.

Jalen Spencer
Fort Hayes Career Center; Columbus, Ohio

Jalen Spencer is a Junior in Columbus City Schools, an urban school district located in Columbus, Ohio. In the mornings he attends Fort Hayes Career Center to study Television Production and Filmmaking, and in the afternoons he attends Mifflin High School for his regular academic classes. Jalen has always been a wonderful storyteller, and enjoys writing his own stories. Since middle school, he has been interested in pursuing a career in the television or film industry where he can work as a director, producer, screenwriter, or editor. In addition to his academics, Jalen has been a three-year letter winner on the Varsity Boys Basketball team. Jalen plans to attend a four-year university where he can earn a bachelor’s degree in television or film, and would like to play basketball at the same time.

Julie Kindinger
Fort Hayes Career Center; Columbus, Ohio

Julie Kindinger has long had a love for video production, and started pursuing her dream of athletic video production at the age of 15 with The Ohio State University. She furthered her passion by obtaining a B.A. degree from Elon University with an emphasis in Broadcast Communications and Sport Management. Upon graduation she continued her work with Old Dominion University, Bradley University, and the Big South Conference. While at Bradley, Kindinger discovered her love for teaching TV production and started working towards her M.S. degree in Integrated Marketing Communications from West Virginia University. Kindinger was excited to return to Columbus in 2015 to teach Fort Hayes Career Center’s TV and Filmmaking class, and has genuinely enjoyed teaching high school juniors and seniors the art of TV and filmmaking.