Biographical Note by The HistoryMakers®

Television news anchor Jerry Revish was born in Youngstown, Ohio on March 15, 1949 to Estelle Revish, a homemaker and Dewey Revish, a steelworker. He graduated from East High School in 1967 and went on to attend Youngstown State University and Chapman College in Orange, California.

In 1972, Revish began his career in the media when he joined WBBW-Radio in Youngstown, Ohio as a board operator. Two years later, he went on to work for WBNS-AM/FM Radio in Columbus, Ohio as a general assignment reporter and assignment editor. In 1980, Revish became a newscaster for WBNS-TV. He reported from Saudi Arabia on the Persian Gulf War in 1990 and his stories entitled, “Desert Shield Diary” won a Midwest Regional Emmy Award in 1991. Revish reported from Bosnia during the Balkans War and created an award-winning half-hour long documentary from his time reporting on post-apartheid South Africa. Since 1992, he has served as co-anchor for WBNS-TV and has anchored the 5 PM, 6 PM and 11 PM news. In 1996, Revish won the NABJ’s Best International Reporting Award for his story "A Return to Haiti: Rebuilding Paradise." Also in 1996, Revish was instrumental in exonerating Columbus bodybuilder Walter Smith, who was falsely accused of rape, by shining light on Smith’s story through the testing of DNA evidence never introduced at trial. He has also reported from Barbados, Bahrain and Japan. Revish is active in his local community and the founder of The Columbus Association of Black Journalists/Jerry Revish High School Journalism Workshop for minority students in Columbus, Ohio.

Revish has garnered much recognition for his work including six Emmy awards and seventeen Emmy nominations. He has also received the Associated Press awards for best feature, best documentary and best spot news coverage. Revish is the recipient of the Blue Chip Award in Communications and the Carl Day Award for Outstanding Achievement. He was inducted into the Ohio Broadcasters Hall of Fame in 2005 and has been a member of the National Association of Black Journalists since 1985. Revish and his wife have two adult children, Nicole and Jerome.

Jerry Revish was interviewed by The HistoryMakers on April 3, 2012.

Video Oral History Interview with Jerry Revish, Section A2012_089_001_003, TRT: 3:30:59 2012/04/03

Jerry Revish began to work at WBNS-Radio in Columbus, Ohio, in 1974, where he started out as a general assignment reporter, went on to become an assignment editor, and also worked with the Associated Press. In 1980, he transitioned from the radio industry into television broadcast journalism, and joined WBNS TV, Channel 10. Here, Revish has worked as a weekend news anchor, a general assignment reporter, and as a weekday news anchor. He also talks about his involvement in the coverage of the work done by U.S. Army reservists from Marion, Ohio, in his series ‘Desert Shield Diary’, and his involvement in exonerating a falsely charged inmate, Walter Smith, of rape charges. Revish also talks about black journalists on national networks in the 1970s, and his work with the Columbus, Ohio, chapter of the BroadNational Association of Black Journalists (NABJ), where he served as the president for four years.
Jerry Revish has worked as a television broadcast journalist at WBNS-TV in Columbus, Ohio, since 1980. In this section of the interview, he describes his experience as a news anchor at WBNS-TV, his philosophy as a journalist, and his major assignments as a television journalist. Revish discusses his tour through Bosnia and Herzegovina in the aftermath of the Bosnian War, his visit to Haiti during the U.S. invasion in the 1990s, and his journalistic tours in Japan, South Africa, the Gulf, Iraq and Barbados in the 1990s. He also talks about local stories from Columbus, Ohio including major news from the 2000s, the election of Mayor Michael Coleman and the highlights of his administration, and the stability of the city’s economy. In 1996, Revish won the National Association of Black Journalists’ Salute to Excellence Award Contest, and in 2005, he was elected to the Ohio Journalism Hall of Fame.

Jerry Revish reflects upon his legacy, his hopes and concerns for the African American community, and how he would like to be remembered. He also describes the desegregation of the school system in Columbus, Ohio, in 1979. Revish discusses the current trend of diminishing numbers of African Americans in broadcast journalism, particularly at the managerial level. He also describes his family and his photographs.
